(PRWEB) September 16, 2005 -- Capital Market Consultants, LLC announces the launch of CMC PASS Reports™, an internet-based, mutual fund performance analysis product covering over 10,000 funds as of the end of July, 2005. CMC PASS Reports™ represent a breakthrough in mutual fund analysis: no other analytical tool is updated as frequently to breakdown accelerating or deteriorating performance, style drift, and other critical attributes of fund behavior. Capital Market Consultants, LLC (CMC), is a pioneering developer of investment research within the Open Architecture Investment Management (OAIM) industry. CMC's suite of internet-based research products (including CMC QualSearch™ and CMC ERsearch™) fills a void in the market for advisors who want a single, convenient source of information on the performance of mutual funds, financial markets and the economy.

CMC PASS Report™ evaluations are updated and re-issued monthly using daily performance to evaluate how well a fund has performed over short, intermediate and longer time periods on an absolute and risk adjusted basis. Individual fund reports monitor a product's evolving style exposures so critical to effectively maintaining long term asset allocation strategies. Fund performance is also decomposed to shed light on key fund performance sources: market exposure, style bets, or true management skill. CMC PASS Report™ analytics were developed by CMC's Chief Economist, Brian Jacobsen, Ph.D, CFA.

"Our suite of online research products are updated monthly to give advisors more penetrating visual insights and early alerts about changes in capital market, economic and product performance. Our online products are designed to contribute to better decision making by advisors and improved service to their clients," said CMC's Managing Partner, Barry K. Mendelsons, CIMA.
